

"Complying With Part 12 of the Ontario Building Code"

A One-Day Workshop for Designers, Mechanical Contractors & Builders

Effective January 1, 2012, all Ontario homes must be designed to meet the performance level equal to a rating of 80 or more when evaluated in accordance with the EnerGuide Rating System or conform to Supplementary Standard SB-12 referenced in the Ontario Building Code. With the introduction of SB-12 in addition to the existing EnerGuide 80 (ERS80) compliance paths in the 2012 Ontario Building Code (OBC), extensive training will be necessary for the industry to ensure a seamless transition to the new rules. The new 2012 energy efficiency requirements are radically different from those in force in the past and introduce new concepts, new compliance routes and computer modeling options.

Join workshop leader, John Harris for this 1-day practical workshop that will provide participants with a thorough understanding of the new mandatory OBC performance requirements.

Course Elements:

- Review the 4 Compliance Options (EnerGuide 80, SB-12 Prescriptive, SB-12 Performance and EnergyStar for New Homes)
- Gain an understanding of the impact that HVAC equipment will have on each option
- Find out when to recommend HVAC equipment upgrades to achieve compliance
- Discuss the impact of Air Barrier requirements on HVAC installations
- Learn how to optimize building design to take advantage of your current practices and reduce the cost of complying

Workshop Leader: John Harris P.Eng, RASDT, RHDT

With a solid background in engineering management, John has owned and operated a home inspection company in Orillia, ON since 1999. A Certified Energy Advisor for the Natural Resources Canada Energuide For Houses Program, John contributed to the development of SB-12 and the Air Tightness Section of the Ontario Building Code and has delivered this training seminar for a number of interest groups within the province. John has been an instructor of SkillTech Academy's residential programs since 2003.
